

Don't play a game of risk with your benefits!

Did you know that reducing data and operational risk is a priority initiative for over of global employers?

But there are still 9 in 10 organizations who use spreadsheets to manipulate and report on sensitive information. This opens you up to:

Market leaders are mitigating this risk with technology.

of organizations using HCM and global benefits software reported that it successfully led to greater security when storing and transferring data reported a failure to comply with local legislation.

Other benefits of using global benefits technology include...

of organizations reported an increase in operational efficiency!

of global organizations reported a reduction in admin errors.

AND

reduced levels of overcharging by vendors.

Don't get left behind...

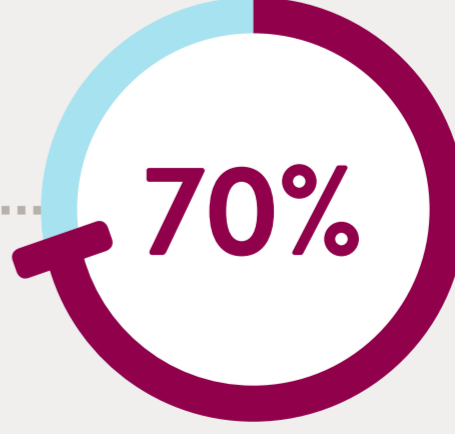

There's a chance to win big

Last year,

had begun to adopt global benefits software.

This year it has already increased to

of global organizations.

It's time to reduce your risk!
